↳ try to find at least 20 (there are more)

Dear students,

Did you no that mini people get confused win writing words that have homophones? This is a problem because there essays often have sentences that are incorrect. Sometimes it is hard to no what a person mint to right when they are using the wrong words. Four instance, the words heard and herd sound the same butt have too different meanings. Some people no the difference but some people do knot. When you sea that a word has a homophone it is a good idea to reed the sentence and make sure the meaning of the word matches what you are trying to say or the sentence want make cents. These words mite bee hard two identify, sew it can bee a good idea to look them up inn a dictionary if you are unsure.
